New York, Dec. 29.—No. 1. George Dewey, No. 2. "Bob" Evans. That is the way the admirals of the United States navy will rank, according to the reports current at the Brooklyn navy yard today. Congress willing, "Fighting Bob" is to be the first of the new vice admirals in the American navy. Besides giving Evans an exclusive flag, it is proposed to give him command of the finest lot of battleships that was ever gathered under Old Glo-

HONOLULU'S NEW STAGE

IMPROVEMENTS READY FOR GRAND RE-OPENING

ROARING FARCE AND BEAUTIFUL HAWAIIAN SKETCH—DOUBLE PRODUCTION FOR MONDAY.

Rapid progress is being made in the improvement of the Orpheum theater and when the curtain rises again on Monday night the audience will behold a stage much larger than the old, affording greater opportunity for the effective production of scenic situations and adding generally to the attraction.

The Orpheum stage has been increased in depth to the extent of a dozen feet, and this amount of additional space will make a wonderful difference for the better in the set-up of big productions. There will be more freedom of action, things will be in proper perspective. The proscenium arch has been widened by about six feet and this brings the boxes on either side into direct range of all that transpires on any part of the stage. The rear ends of the boxes about on the stage. The main body of the theater has been extended back flush, an elbow in the rear having been removed. This improvement makes room for more spectators and gives the interior a better appearance. Gallery seats have been arranged further back and are elevated at an angle of vision of circus seats, so that all may obtain good views. More orchestra seats have been added, increasing the reserved seat capacity of the house.

Some twenty additional drop scenes have been painted, the extension of the stage permitting of their accommodation.

A dozen new dressing rooms for the performers have been constructed. These are comfortable and neat and convenient.

Besides all this, general repairs and improvements are being made to the Orpheum block as a whole, so that the building takes on a renovated appearance.

All during the week carpenters, scene painters, electricians and others have been busy rushing the work to completion in time for the grand re-opening of the National Stock Company's season on Monday evening next. Everything will be in readiness at that time and it is certain that a big crowd will turn out to welcome again Richard Buhler's splendid troupe which has for the past few months delighted large audiences night after night in so many magnificent plays.

Two plays are to be produced on the re-opening night. One is "Turned Up," a farce that will provoke the greatest of merriment and keep the house in perpetual laughter, and the other is "The Half-White," a Hawaiian play written by Mr. Wilkes, of the National Stock Company, especially for production at the Orpheum. This is a beautiful little sketch and none should fail to witness its presentation.

Buhler's players have a delightful repertoire and their numerous plays yet to come, plays that will please every bit as much as have those big successes gone before. Honolulu is indeed fortunate in having so accomplished a company and the wise will avail themselves of every opportunity to enjoy this good fortune.

Those who have already seen Buhler and the rest, in parts which they have made famous, must long to see them again. For good, conscientious, clever, clean, telling, talented work these men and women have certainly established a record that will live always in the fond memories of Honoluluans. Their week's rest will start them all fresh in the nightly round of thoroughly pleasing the crowds and, when again the footlights blaze, the crowds will realize how much they have missed their delightful entertainers during the few days they have been idle while improvements were being made to the popular theater.

Manager Joe Cohen has spared no pains to please the people and it is a great satisfaction to him to be able to present such successful performers in such magnificent productions. Seats for Monday evening should be secured as early as possible, for the night of the re-opening is sure to see the house crowded.

DANCE DTO DEATH.

Providence, R. I., Dec. 29.—Lillian A. Hunt, 21 years old, who has been prominent in the social world as an accomplished singer, died today in a hospital in this city from tuberculosis of the right hip, brought about, her physicians say, by dancing too much. Her complaint was rather an unusual one, and as she had been ill about three months the doctors attending her were at first doubtful as to the exact cause of her condition. A diagnosis made by one of the most skillful surgeons of this city disclosed the fact that she was suffering from hip trouble. Two months ago she was removed to a hospital and three operations were performed by the surgeons in an attempt to save her life.

For a time she grew better and hopes were entertained that she would ultimately recover. Monday the final operation was performed and then it developed that her life could not be saved. After this operation the patient grew rapidly worse and today expired.

According to her family physician, who cared for her before she went to the hospital, the young woman was passionately fond of dancing, and last April before she became ill danced at various social affairs until he thinks the tissues of her hip became worn and the muscles affected in such a way that tuberculosis developed.

"The wind cart" used for irrigation purposes by the Chinese consists of eight tall masts, fixed perpendicularly on a wooden frame. The sails go around with the wind, which causes the water from the river to be pumped through a trough.

Enlightened Hospitality

If we are cheerful, sympathetic and gay, the world responds in kind; if we are gloomy and gray, the world sighs a solemn accompaniment. It is a matter of fact that we largely get from the world in proportion to what we give. The idea that you have got to work for happiness and brightness, actually paying for it in its own coin, is true in every phase of life. It is true of your home as of yourself. A gloomy house will not attract cheerful people, and a dim light will shadow a smile.

Have the light of lights—Electric Light—installed in your home and all will be light and happiness, and there will be never a shadow.

His Opinion

Of The News

"Every now and again there is a discussion of the question of what is the proper definition of the word news," acridly-pessimistically said the Old Codger during a recent session of the Linen Pants Club. "Many able men have from time to time answered it, with perfect satisfaction to themselves, and still the question won't stay settled."

"Last night I read in my paper that the King of What-dye-call-it—some little Eilat dab of land over there some-where—is complaining bitterly of poverty because he has only a paltry $887,500 a year and a herd of little kings to support, and that two beautiful young ladies who were waiting at table in a restaurant in Kansas City fought a duel with ketchup bottles for love's sweet sake. I also learned of a burglar who remained concealed behind a cabinet organ while a village maiden played hymn tunes on it for three solid hours; that a certain side-whiskered octopus owns the oldest pair of andirons in existence, and that a bright young man in Izard County, Arkansas, only 20 years of age has just succeeded in beating accidentally shot for the 'seventh time by mistake for something or other. I noted that a fool woman had grabbed an innocent United States Senator by the throat and kissed him despite his squirms; I learned, too, how to pronounce jiu-jitsu, and the reason why a lady in New Harmony, Ind., sued her husband for divorce—she alleged that he kicked her on the sly with his wooden leg. I also gained a vast amount of information about sanitary mattresses and breakfast faddies, and freaks and follies of the rich and their envious imitators; how to buy whisky and grow tall by mail, and so on and so forth."

"And, thinking it over, I couldn't help concluding that 'news,' as understood and disseminated by the press of today, is largely a conglomeration of breeze, bray, piffle and non-essential flap-doodle, and that the heads of the kind of people who appreciate that kind of stuff must surely be more or less flattened at the poles."—Tom P. Morgan, in January Smart Set.

MUTUAL'S AFFAIRS.

New York, Dec. 27.—Emory McClintock was elected vice president of the Mutual Life Insurance Company at the meeting of the board of trustees today. Mr. McClintock is a native of Pennsylvania. He is to be put in active charge of the company's technical affairs. In addition, he was elected a trustee today, as was also President-elect Charles A. Peabody. They were chosen to fill the vacancies made by the resignations of Elihu Root and Rufus W. Peckham.

It was voted to put all general agencies on a salary basis after January 1 next, instead of a commission basis. Two of the foreign agencies are to be discontinued, the Australian agency and the agency at Copenhagen.
